

Senior Petroleum Engineering Project Manager

Come work with us!

If you are looking for meaningful new challenges in China, we want to hear from you. Joining Sinopec International Exploration and Production Corporation (Beijing, China), you'll be encouraged to embrace challenges and discover innovative solutions to each and every overseas' subsidiaries. For that, you'll receive a competitive remuneration package and the opportunity to pursue your international career path.

Company Profile

SINOPEC International Petroleum Exploration and Production Corporation (SIPC) is a wholly-owned subsidiary of SINOPEC Group, specializing in overseas oil and gas exploration and production investment and operation. Since its inception in 2001, SIPC, committed to its core values of "Responsibility, Integrity, Shared Values, and Enterprising", has formed good relationship with host countries and partners, and created win-win for all stakeholders on the back of SINOPEC's advantages as an integrated oil company. It has built a presence in 26 countries, participating in 50 exploration or production projects. Remarkable achievements were achieved on the front of international operation, management, and cross-cultural integration. Looking to the future, SIPC will continue to work more closely and flexibly with the industry, the government, and the finance community to create benefits for all and diversify the company's energy and resource portfolio. The vision of SIPC is to build a world-leading oil company featuring excellence and harmony, and achieving that vision will contribute greatly to the SINOPEC's goal of building itself into a world leading energy and chemical corporation.

China Petrochemical Corporation (SINOPEC), as the parent company of SIPC, is a super-large petroleum and petrochemical group and ranks top 4 in The Fortune 2016 Global 500.

Work Location: Beijing, China

Primary Purpose of Position

Responsible for the development of drilling, completion, fracturing and other engineering technology application strategies. In addition to preparing program and management procedures, supervising ongoing drilling projects, and providing technical support.

Responsibilities

- Improve the company's drilling, completion, fracturing and other technical management procedures, to participate in business departments and overseas project work plans and programs.
- Define the level of overseas project risk, organize the feasibility study of the drilling project, compile or review the drilling design and drilling program, and monitor the follow-up operations to provide timely support.
- Provide drilling technical support and assistance in monitoring HSE policies for drilling operations.
- Supervise and improve the quality, schedule, cost and safety of drilling operations.

Position Knowledge, Skills and Experience

- Proficient in engineering and technical knowledge, familiar with the relevant industry standards and safe operations knowledge.
- Good interpersonal communication skills, fluent English in listening, speaking, reading and writing, and the second language in Chinese is preferred.
- Good teamwork ability.
- Good writing skills with Windows Office software proficiency.
- Strong professional character including integrity, dedication and sense of responsibility.

Senior Petroleum Engineering Project Manager

Qualifications

- Bachelor degree or above in oil and gas field development, geology or other related major.
- 20+ years' experience working in the international oil and gas industry.
- 10+ years' experience working in oil and gas field drilling and completion.

To apply, submit your resume and cover letter on the careers section of our website, www.sinopeccanada.com. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted. Thank you in advance for your interest.